VOTING FOR POPE BEGINS ON MARCH 1

By CECIL BROWN

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 15 (INS)—The forthcoming world conclave of the Sacred College of Cardinals to elect a successor to Pope Pius XI has been fixed definitely for the morning of March 1.

This was learned today from an unimpeachable source after 38 cardinals met in an "open seat" congregation this morning to begin mapping final plans for the election.

High Vatican authorities told International News Service that all the Cardinals who are expected to attend the conclave now are scheduled to reach the Eternal City by the first of next month.

The late Pontiff's two secretaries, Mgr. Cantalamessa and Mgr. Venzani who yesterday placed a silver veil over the Holy Father's face before he was finally laid to rest in the crypt of St. Peter's Basilica, said mass this morning before the newly sealed tomb.

MOURNERS VISIT CRYPT

Mourners who went to the church also were allowed to visit the crypt and gaze in reverent awe at the walled niche where rests the body of the Pope, who often during the last years of his life would gaze at the niches and say: "Here, I, too, will some day find sweet repose."

Meanwhile, still more cardinals were converging upon Rome to take up their duties and participate in the election of the man who will assume the tasks of the dead Pope of Peace. When the congregation of cardinals meets tomorrow it will receive members of the diplomatic corps.

The forthcoming arrival of the two American Cardinals who are aboard the Italian liner Rex—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia—was awaited with the keenest interest.

William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston is due in Rome a little later than his two compatriots, but is expected to arrive in time for the election.

OPINIONS CARRY WEIGHT

It was indicated the three Americans may exercise a weight upon the choice of a new Pope considerably beyond their numerical strength.

Although the United States will have but three votes in the election of a pontiff to succeed Pope Pius XI, it was learned a number of Italian cardinals are "especially anxious" to gain a clear insight into the Americans' view of such matters as the political leaning and

CARDINAL GAINS DAY ON TRIP

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston will arrive in Rome February 28, one full day ahead of his schedule and the day before balloting to choose the new Pope is begun, it was learned here today.

The Italian Line today ordered the liner Neptunia to pick up Cardinal O'Connell at Gibraltar February 28, to cancel a scheduled stop at Algiers and proceed direct to Naples, whence the Cardinal will motor to Rome.

Cardinal O'Connell was to sail from New York today at 6 p. m. for Gibraltar on the Italian liner Saturnia.

DEATH FOLLOWS DEATH

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Ellen M. Buckley, 82, died today 25 hours after the death of her daughter, Mary. Double funeral services will be held Friday.

MASS SOLEMNIZED FOR POPE PIUS AT CATHEDRAL HERE

1300 Priests Join In Mourning Pius At Requiem Here

In solemn pageantry, to the sonorous chords of glorious music keyed to the mourning black of the celebrants, Boston's clergy united today in humble grief to honor the late Pope Pius XI.

Thirteen hundred priests—pastors of parishes, large and small, members of sacred orders, high prelates and humble assistants—joined in worship at Holy Cross Cathedral. And with them were scores of Boston's most prominent citizens and public officials.

Four hundred nuns were there, representing every order in the Boston diocese.

IMPRESSIVE RITES

It was one of the most impressive ceremonies ever staged here, a grieving tribute to the Pontiff of Peace.

The solemn requiem high mass was sung by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Richard J. Haberlin, D. D., Vicar General of the diocese. It began at 10:30, but long before that the great auditorium of the cathedral was jammed to capacity.

The eulogy was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Augustine F.

HUB GIRL STUDENT ELOPES

Fellow students of Miss Marjorie Wilson, who have been wondering over her absence from the exclusive McKinley School in the Back Bay, learned the answer only today.

Marjorie and a University of Michigan junior sang "Time Out for Love" over the week-end and eloped to Bennington, Vt.

The marriage of 19-year-old Marjorie, a resident of Kenosha, Wis., also ended her career at the Back Bay school, she herself disclosed, but she may resume studies at her husband's college.

He is W. C. Devereaux, Jr., 19, and will complete his course at Michigan.

The pretty Boston student telegraphed news of her marriage to her parents at Miami, Fla., after stopping off at Detroit following the elopement.

The newlyweds will go apartment hunting at Ann Arbor when the bridegroom resumes his college studies.

"I, too, may take up several studies at the University of Michigan," she said, "although I have not yet definitely made up my mind. We plan to make our home at Ann Arbor for some time."

The bride is the granddaughter of Charles W. Nash, chairman of the board of Nash-Kelvinator Corporation. Young Devereaux's father is president of the Ferro Stamping & Manufacturing Company of Detroit.

Hugh Walpole's Colorful Story of Pontiff's Funeral

In majestic prose, Hugh Walpole, world-famous novelist, describes the solemnly beautiful ceremonies with which the Catholic church entombed Pius XI, the Pope of Peace.

By HUGH WALPOLE

(With Copyright, 1939, by International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 15 (INS)—I have just come from watching the burial of Pope Pius XI in the great cathedral of St. Peter's.

I have witnessed a ceremony that in all its essentials has been the same for hundreds of years and my first deep reaction to it has been—history.

THOUGHT OF MAN HIMSELF

What makes history? Has every strangely contrasted pressing, murmuring crowd, witnessing those other burials of those other Popes felt that theirs was the critical moment in history and that no moment before has been quite as important as this one?

I had seen Pius XI lying in state while a quiet, dark procession slowly passed, paid obsequies, and had gone out into the rain. I didn't think of history then, but rather of the man himself.

I had never before seen him but I felt for him an intimate friendliness although I knew nothing about him except that he was good and brave. But that is a lot to know about anybody—when you are sure it is the truth.

I entered St. Peter's and as I went to my place in the cathedral—between the great altar at the end of the church and the Baldachino of Bernini, a mighty towering roof

Divorce Granted Moore

MRS. MARIANNE MOORE
Mate Wins Decree

BARNSTABLE, Feb. 15 (AP)—W. Moore, proprietor of the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, who testified that his wife frequently beat him up, was today awarded a divorce for cruelty from Mrs. Marianne Heath Schultz Moore.

During trial of the case last December, Mrs. Moore testified she was expecting a child, but refused to submit to examination by a physician.

Moore met his wife when he was a patient in a California hospital and she was his nurse. They were married in February, 1935.

In June, he said, he weighed 130 pounds and his wife 180. He claimed she beat, kicked, bit and scratched him.

FREAK STORM ROUTS FOG

In evening Winter's No. 1 Freak, the temperature shot up more than 21 degrees today in one hour as the result of an electrical storm, brief but sufficient to clear most of the fog that had blanketed the coast since early last night.

At 11 a. m. the mercury was at 37 degrees and then came several flashes of lightning and rain-falling thunder.

The wind shifted into the south—and an hour later the mercury hit 54.4 degrees—for the day's high dropped back to 55 degrees a half hour later.

DELUGE OF RAIN

With the lightning came a deluge of rain over Greater Boston, but the heaviest of the fog had been melted away.

Meanwhile, the fog had grounded airplanes, halted shipping and slowed down motor traffic along main highways, and storm signals had been set from Cape Hatteras to Eastport.

Rain drizzled through the fog in many sections and storm warnings were ordered set from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Eastport, Me.

The forecast is for rain and slightly colder tonight, with the lowest temperature in the upper 20's and partly cloudy and colder tomorrow.

SHIPS ARE DELAYED

Although many ships lay at anchor waiting for a break in the fog, three vessels managed to make their docks with passengers.

They were the Eastern Steamship liners Acadia from New York and Yarmouth, from Yarmouth, N. S., and the Merchants and Miners liner Juanita, from Norfolk, Va.

Five ships were anchored off quarantine, including the United States liner American Farmer, from London, with passengers and freight; the Dutch steamer Tabian, from the West Indies; and the Collier Silver Sword, from Norfolk, Va.

Bette's First Role Nearly Cost Life

Codfish Cakes in Hollywood

By GEORGE W. CLARKE

Like a Puritan maid in a group of sleepy-eyed señoritas, Bette Davis' Beverly Hills home is severely Colonial in sharp contrast to the Spanish and Italian type villas of her movie-star neighbors. . . . Once within its doors, it is like a Beacon Hill mansion. All the furniture was bought in Boston shops—some pieces are priceless antiques. . . .

And in the mornings when she gazes out into California's too-bright sunshine, sees the too-blue sky and olive-brown foothills stretching away towards the Sierras, her eyes are dim with yearning for the sparkle of a New England sun on snow-clad hills. . . .

It was just a wisp of smoke at first, a trickle of flame and then, all in a moment, it was sweeping over her in sharp bright tongues.

She screamed as the fire bit into her flesh, the other children screamed, and the older women dashed towards her. They beat it out while the frightened children milled about the big room. Then it was over, save for the smoke wreaths lazily touching the ceiling, the little figure from which came whimpers and long, half-caught gasping breaths. . . .

So ended Bette Davis' first adventure as an actress—ended in pain, and horror, and the dreadful fear that she had been so burned that her face and neck would be scarred forever.

LEAVES NO SCAR

Almost by magic, it seemed, her mother was at her side, comforting, soothing the pain, ministering to her as only a mother can minister and, miraculously, staving off the injury which threatened to be permanent.

It happened at Bette's first boarding school, where, at 12, she and Barbara, 8, were sent to study while Mother Davis, just divorced, started to carve out a career for herself in professional photography. It was a good school, its snug brown buildings nestling in the snow of

HIS 'FINE U. S. JOB' JUST WPA

Discovery that her husband of two days, whom she accused of beating her, was not really a lieutenant commander in the United States navy but an electrician's helper on the WPA was "quite a shock," Mrs. Alice Gibbons Weiner, 25, said in Suffolk County court today.

Her bridegroom, Solomon Weiner, 28, of Eaton street, West End, had recently appealed two sentences of one month each in the House of Correction on charges of assault and threats to assault imposed on him in municipal court.

Today he pleaded nolo.

His blonde, attractive wife thereupon explained she would not prosecute.

"His mother asked me not to," she said. "After all, he's trying to support her and his sister on $15 a week."

Assistant district attorney James T. Cassidy said Mrs. Weiner "was going to straighten the matter out by applying for a divorce." Judge Frederick W. Fosdick then filed the complaints.

Her eyes flashing, Mrs. Weiner said to reporters:

"You want to know what happened? He told me he was an electrical contractor and a commander in the navy. He said he was making $52.50 a week."

"In two days I found out he worked for the WPA. He beat me up and threatened me with a 45."

Salem Woman Saltonstall Aide

Governor Saltonstall made an addition to his secretariat today when the executive council confirmed his nomination of Mrs. Mary Jerome Scott of Lafayette street, Salem, as his private stenographer.

The naming of Eli M. Lovinsky of Dorchester, submitted last week to replace Alexander M. Sullivan of Boston, business agent of the Boston school committee, as trustee of the Boston State Hospital, was withdrawn, and Sullivan was re-nominated.

FLORIDA HOTEL RAID NETS GANG $200,000

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15 (INS)—Six bandits, two of them armed with sub-machine guns and the others with pistols, early today held up the swanky Blackstone Hotel in Miami Beach and escaped with loot.

The $150,000 to $200,000 of money and jewels were taken from 12 of 100 safety deposit boxes reserved for guests of the hotel.

Estimates of the loss were made by insurance investigators, American Express investigators and police.

Seven persons—the night clerk, four guests and two housemen—were bound with adhesive tape and held under guard while the bandits methodically broke open the 30 deposit boxes. The bandits fled from the hotel just before dawn, leaving their victims still bound.

Intensive search for the bandits was launched immediately by city and state authorities and the coast guard. All causeways to the mainland were barricaded, as were south Florida highways, and officers stopped all cars. The coast guard sent out a patrol boat to check the waterfront.

Governor Loses 10 Pounds

Governor Saltonstall has lost 10 pounds through his attack of intestinal gripe, it was revealed today by his staff as inclement weather prevented his expected return to the State House.

Although the governor's condition has greatly improved and he had desired to attend today's meeting of his executive council, his physician advised against leaving the house.

ROOSEVELT STILL RESTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt remained away from his office again today to get all the rest possible before leaving tomorrow night for a southern cruise. Aides reported him as making further gains against the gripe but as still requiring rest.

$5,000,000 Guam Plan Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (INS)—

The House naval affairs committee today approved legislation authorizing a $5,000,000 program to improve aviation facilities on the Pacific island of Guam, as the House itself advanced first phase of President Roosevelt's $532,000,000 rearmament program toward passage.

The action of the naval affairs committee on the disputed "fortification" of Guam was taken by a 14 to 5 vote, Republican members alone casting the dissenting votes.

Pres. Wilson's Wife Urged Him to Resign

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (INS)—Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of the war-time President, writes today in the February 15 issue of a national magazine that after President Wilson had suffered a paralytic stroke in October, 1919, she suggested that he resign in favor of Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall.

Her suggestion, Mrs. Wilson adds, was overruled by Dr. Francis X. Dercum, Philadelphia nerve specialist.

Nazis to Draft Needed Workers

BERLIN, Feb. 15 (AP)—Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering today empowered the federal labor office and its sub-departments throughout Germany to draft any worker who might be needed to perform tasks deemed urgent and of importance to the welfare of the state.

Under his decree, every inhabitant of Germany, foreigners excepted, may be drafted for whatever form of labor Goering, as dictator of the four-year plan for economic self-sufficiency, deems necessary.

Men or women holding jobs must be given leave of absence immediately by their employers when drafted.

If a task prescribed by the labor office acting under Goering's instruction is of indefinite duration the person drafted is regarded as having resigned from his former position.

But if he is drafted only for a stated period, the employer must keep his job open for him and take him back whenever the labor office's special requirement is filled.

The employer is not compelled to pay wages for the absent period, but the drafted person's wage scale for his new job may not necessarily be the same.

The decree further provides that drafted persons may first be put through a course of training.

For instance, if there should be a shortage of laborers to lay steel car tracks, the labor office might decide it needed 100 men from a photographer's studio.

These men must leave their jobs immediately, but they may be put through a brief engineering course before being assigned to track laying.

NAZI refugee student, Rachel Kestenberg

of Czechoslovakia, is enrolled at Radcliffe College now that she won a scholarship for refugee students. Her father, a noted musician, is director of symphony orchestra in Palestine. She plans to visit him after two years' study here.

REFUGEE RADCLIFFE STUDENT

Rachel Kestenberg, 21, German refugee student at Radcliffe College, attended her first classes today on the strength of English she has learned from American movies—especially those of Robert Taylor.

The girl from Prague, Czechoslovakia, begins her education through arrangements completed by Miss Peggy Fellows of Linnear street, Cambridge.

"All the girl students in Czechoslovakia enjoy the films in which Robert Taylor appears," said Miss Kestenberg. "I began learning English nine years ago in my native country by watching American movies. Lately I have learned a lot watching those in which Robert Taylor acted. I have many of the American words down pat."

Miss Kestenberg won a scholarship at Radcliffe under which she will study—as a junior—American history and psychology. Miss Fellows, who knew her as a student in Prague, told her about the scholarship which Miss Kestenberg applied for and won. Miss Fellows is a graduate student at Wellesley. When she completes her two years' course, Miss Kestenberg plans to go to Palestine for a reunion with her parents. Her father, a noted musician, is director of the symphony orchestra there.

Save 2 Children At Medford Fire

Two children were carried to safety today during a fire which caused $2000 damage to a two-family house in Saunders street, Medford.

The fire started in a second-floor apartment occupied by a newly-married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stevens, awakened by smoke, aroused his bride and assisted her downstairs. Then he awoke Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blair, owners, and occupants of the first floor.

The Blair children, Maynard, four, and Barbara, two, were taken to the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Addie Hadley, next door.

Hungary Premier, Bela Imredi, Quits

BUDAPEST, Feb. 15 (AP)—Premier Bela Imredi resigned today because of parliamentary opposition to his sweeping proposals for regulating Jews and afterward started his party members by announcing he had discovered that he himself was partly Jewish.

Indications were that he would be succeeded by scholarly 60-year-old Count Paul Teleki, geographer and Boy Scout leader, who was premier for five months in 1920.

FORE RIVER BIDS LOW ON CRUISERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (INS)—A super-express cruiser of revolutionary design will be built for the navy in America's rapidly expanding program to develop a fleet second to none, it was disclosed today.

2 Women Bank Aides Guilty

Two women, former tellers and long-time employees of the Park National Bank in Holyoke, were each given suspended sentences in federal court today after changing their pleas to guilty on embezzlement charges.

Miss Amelia L. Bieber, 40, of Westfield road, Holyoke, was charged with embezzling $1379 of the bank's funds. Miss Mary Ashe, 37, was charged with embezzlement of $2405.

Suspended sentences of a year and a day were imposed on each and the women were placed on probation for a year.

The Bethlehem Steel Company's Fore River plant at Quincy, Mass., entered the low bid of $11,595,000 for each of the two ships under the provision for adjustment on labor and material costs. Its bid for one vessel was $12,595,000.

The new type of cruiser is smaller and much lighter but considerably faster than the present light cruisers. It will be of 5,000-ton displacement compared with 8000 tons for the navy's present light cruisers and 10,000 tons for the heavy cruisers.

Navy experts said the new cruiser will, in effect, be a super-destroyer, though with much heavier armor and having twice the displacement of the destroyer flotilla leaders.

It was described as America's answer to the rapid construction of light high-speed warships by Germany and Italy.

The proposed new cruiser was revealed today when bids were opened at the navy department for construction of the first two of the new-type vessels to be named Atlanta, after the Georgia capital, and Juneau, after the capital of Alaska.

Bandit Suspects Held in $15,000

Two alleged young "good time bandits" were held in $15,000 each on charges of robbery and armed robbery in Quincy district court today for the next sitting of the grand jury.

The youths, Albert Payne, 19, of Wheeler lane, and Anthony J. Pollino, 21, of North Beacon court, both of Watertown, pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Previously in Brookline court, they had been held in $20,000 each on similar counts.

Quincy police charged the pair with holding up two Quincy variety stores, taking a total of $70 and robbing one proprietor, James Calkins, over the head with a toy pistol.

Police say the boys boasted of stealing to get money "for good times—wine, women and song."

Rarely—if ever has the coat market been so cleaned up on fur-trimmed dressy coats at this time of the year. We started out to buy 700 fur-trimmed dress coats. After shopping for nearly four days we were able to assemble only 266 of the kind and quality that we knew YOU would want. Even then, it took a lot of persuasion to get one of our best makers of women's coats to do us the favor of making the women's coats to our order. Because of the extremely low price we must refuse to sell to dealers—not more than two coats to a customer—and all sales are final.

Linings—Women's coats lined with rayon. Misses' coats lined with silk satin or rayon crepe. All but a few have all wool filled interlinings.

Styles—Boxy or fitted coats—small perky collars—flattering pouch shawl collars—smart Johnny collars—some fur plastrons—some with muffs.

Fabrics—95% are all wool or wool and cotton boucles—the smartest fabric this season. 5% are in wool and rayon monotone tweeds.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN MEDFIELD DEATH

John R. Maloney, 23-year-old son of Police Chief John J. Maloney of Milford, pleaded not guilty today in Dedham court to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of an elderly inmate of Medfield State Hospital.

At the request of Maloney, suspended attendance at the hospital. Judge James A. Halloran continued the case until March 17, allowing the son to go in the same ball as set yesterday by Medfield police, 300.

His mother and mother accompanied him to court. Maloney was one of four hospital attendants suspended following the death of James O'Neil, 73, of Cambridge.

The young attendant surrendered to Medfield police immediately after he was learned a warrant had been issued for his arrest. Chief Maloney furnished $5000 bail for his son.

Upon receipt of the medical report, the jury, Edmund R. Dewing, state police immediately inquired a probe which re-

Spain Troops Forget To Return Gem Hoard

PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 15 (AP)—The mystery of the jewels of Figueras Castle kept French police and mobile guards busy today tracking down Spaniards whose pockets and suitcases were crammed with small fortunes in jewelry and precious metals.

Large boxes in the Perpignan police headquarters already have been heaped high with jewels, but part of the Figueras Castle treasure still was missing.

Nine trucks of jewels and pieces of gold and silver were assembled by the government to finance the continuation of the Spanish civil war and sent to Figueras after Barcelona fell to the insurgents January 26.

The valuables were ordered stored in vaults of the castle, but officials arrived at the castle, just as government troops were evacuating the city.

It was too late to get trucks out on the traffic-jammed roads. An officer ordered his men to take as much as they could carry into France for deposit in the Spanish consulate in Perpignan.

Three trucks were looted. Six others were driven into the castle and dynamited. More than 75 soldiers were reported throughout the frontier zone carrying jewels and precious metals, including heavy collars of gold encrusted with diamonds and rubies, brooches, gold chains and men's and women's rings with large diamonds and emeralds.

Study Bill to Halt School Flag Salute

The legislative committee on education today studied a bill seeking abolition of the salute to the flag after members of Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious sect, hurled charges at a stormy State House hearing.

In seeking to make the salute to the flag optional in public schools, members of the sect charged that children had been beaten and tortured for obeying the edicts of their religion.

In turn, the Witnesses of Jehovah were soundly scored on the basis of a letter written to President Roosevelt in which the Catholic Hierarchy allegedly was termed "Public Enemy No. 1."

The crowded hearing room was thrown into turmoil when Representative Joseph Melley of Chelsea declared that such a letter had been written to the President by C. R. Moyle, general counsel for the sect. The declaration was made while Henry G. Judson of Fairhaven, a self-admitted member of Jehovah's Witnesses, was testifying.

"Do you subscribe to the letter written by Moyle to the President in which it is said the Catholic Hierarchy is Public Enemy No. 1?" Melley asked.

"I do, absolutely," Judson replied.

FIGHT HIS OWN WAY

Judson, who called the salute law dangerous to the American principles, was asked whether he would be willing to fight to preserve them. "I would fight to the death," he replied.

But when questioned further, he said he meant through spiritual force and not armed force.

Moyle said school children have been tortured, beaten, held up to ridicule and flung against desks for refusing to salute the flag. There are 25 children in this state alone who have been denied the right to public school education for this reason.

CALLS WOMAN A MARTYR

"The threat has been made to prosecute the children of William A. Johnson of South Deerfield and they may be thrown into a reformatory with criminals and sex perverts," said Moyle.

RAVAGES of paint she is using on scenery for forthcoming play is examined by Jane Parker, Jackson College girl. She is one of managers of show given by "Pen, Paint and Pretzels Society."

Jackson Girls Star

Stage-struck NOT the word for these Jackson College "pretties!" Unless you're going to be literal about it. And mean the strike of the hammer.

Because that is where the particular interest of this group lies. The hammer and nail, as well as the chisel and line, and kit are the dramatic tools they wield, rather than the makeup of the rouge-pot and powder.

It's the back-drop rather than the curtain that intrigues them. Blue eyes, curls, and curves. Yes, they're here. But they are directed toward the "props" instead of the footlights.

"High-Ter" is the dray-ma of the moment. And it is being produced by the Pen, Paint and Pretzels Society of the college February 21-24.

HOW TO BUY FINE WHISKEY FOR LESS MONEY AS REVEALED BY 960 OUT OF 1,000 MEN!

Out of 1,000 Men in Dramatic Survey—960 Find Old Quaker—Now 3 Years Old—a Smooth, Mild, Rich Whiskey, Yet It Sells at a Rock-Bottom Low Price!

● The next time you get ready to buy a bottle of fine, rich, expensive whiskey—do this: Figure how many quarts you buy in a year's time. Then—knock off a dollar for each quart—and total your savings! Here's why we make such suggestion:

We went to 1,000 men, from 22 states, and poured each one of them a drink of delicious Old Quaker. "Taste it!" we said to them. "Smell it! Swallow a drink of it! Then give us your honest opinion!"

We were amazed at their answer. Not one of these men knew the name, age, or price of the whiskey he was trying—yet 960 out of 1,000 commented on Old Quaker's rich, mild mellowness... its delicate aroma, its delicious taste! They proved it a whiskey you'll be glad to drink... proud to serve—even though Old Quaker's price is unbelievably low!

Why Not Save Money?

If you agree with these 960 out of 1,000 men—you've made a money-saving discovery. You can probably cut your whiskey bills a third—for Old Quaker, aged for 3 full years in temperature-controlled warehouses, has the taste of expensive whiskey at a real rock-bottom price! Why not see for yourself—and say "Old Quaker"—the next time you buy!

"Man—what a rich flavor! Say—that's the smoothest whiskey I ever swallowed," remarks Wm. F. Killian, New Jersey Hotel Man, after trying Old Quaker.

"Um! Real rich taste! Judge it's mighty old by the slick way it goes down!" says John W. Wine, Supervisory Timekeeper.

"I'd guess it's right old—'cause it's got that rich flavor as if it had mellowed a long time" is what George Bonquist, Advertising Man, said after making trial of Old Quaker.

"Tastes like real old whiskey! Goes down like hatch extra smooth!"—Frank J. McCarty, Grocery Clerk.

The Inspector behind every bottle is your Assurance of Quality.

THE NEW HASTY PUDDING CLUB SHOW is a satirical musical on the World's Fair. . . . The title is "Fair Enough" . . . Alan Lerner, David Merrick and Frank Lawrence wrote the book and music. . . . Edward Clarke Lilly, fresh from a Broadway triumph as stager of the revue intine, "One For the Money," is directing "Fair Enough," his second Hasty Pudding assignment. . . . Billy Holbrook is staging the dances. . . . It is Billy's fifth consecutive year as dance director of the Harvard club's annual show. . . .

EXCLUSIVE: Rudy Vallee has departed too far from the style of singing and show-producing which endeared him to his current radio sponsors . . . His contract will not be renewed . . . Kate Smith's growing popularity in a competing program at the same time was the deciding factor . . . But Rudy won't be out of a radio job very long . . . He will supplant Kay Kyser, who, in turn, is having sponsor trouble . . .

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

DO YOU RESPECT your child's "moral privacy"?

Or do you believe you have a right to probe and peer into his hidden motives? To analyze and discuss the whys and wherefores of his every thought and deed?

The Younger Generation—in the person of 20-year-old Spats Agnew, of Baltimore, wants to know. "Quite a letter," Spats wrote in a letter in fact that was reading it on a radio.

Dear Miss Robinson:

Have the so-called parents of today educated parents of today respect for the moral privacy of their children?

All of us have thoughts and feelings too sacred and intimate to be revealed to anyone. We are naturally sensitive about such personal thoughts.

Certainly if a child or parent feels the necessity of discussing his problems, he will do so of his own free will and in such cases parents and teachers should give sympathetic advice. Only when advice is sought is it of value. When it is forced upon us, it goes unheeded nine times out of ten.

My advice to parents is: Treat your children like human beings of guinea pigs. If you're really interested in what we think about, let us discuss these things with you voluntarily and in a friendly manner. But don't take that knowledge all attitude and consider us just subjects for laboratory experiments.

SPATS AGNEW

NEVER WAS THERE a more timely or, to my mind, a more needed letter. Many minds and hearts will undoubtedly take it as a blast against psychiatry in general and domestic psychiatry in particular. And will remove their skirts at all these new-fangled notions about mind reading. But they find no ground for their skirts in this computer's thoughtful letter.

We no longer believe as implicitly in Papa's and Mama's omniscience but we're still in the thick ages as regards child training. No subject on earth is as important as Child Psychology, and there are few subjects in which we know less or not worse. IF THE AVERAGE PUPPET-KNEE AS LITTLE OF HIS CRAFT AS THE AVERAGE FATHER KNOWS OF HIS (OR HER'S) HE'D BE KICKED OUT OF EVERY UNION FORTH WITH.

DAD AND MOM SHOULD know how Junior's wheels go round . . . and shouldn't be permitted to become parents until they DO know. But it's one thing to KNOW the workings of a mind and quite another to ruthlessly invade its privacy.

A PERSONAL MIND HAS AS MUCH RIGHT TO PRIVACY AS A PRIVATE ROOM.

The fact that a person is a mother or father of a child in no way gives that person the right to trample on a child's secret thoughts or dreams. A child is an individual before it is a son or daughter . . . and its right as an individual should be as carefully respected as any stranger's.

You've a right to study your child . . . and analyze your child . . . and influence your child, if you have the wit and wisdom. BUT YOU'VE NO RIGHT UNDER HEAVEN TO INVADE YOUR CHILD'S MIND OR EXPOSE HIS THOUGHTS. And deserve his contempt and dislike if you do so.

A NEW KIND OF CLUB—THE EAR BENDERS

Girl About Town

by MARGUERITE DOWNEY

YOU scarcely expect Mayfair's reputation to produce a club. But it exists as far as organization to be found anywhere with dues, fines and charter. It's been named the Ear Benders Association, formed in protest to people who hit the floor for two hours with a conversation dotted with more in than a picket fence.

Alec Finn, the Mayfair owner, has been chosen president, and Arlene Garfield and Betty Burke are serving as vice president and secretary. Only those victimized by ear-benders are eligible for membership. Dues are fifty cents for the girls and $1 for the men, and regular meetings are held the first Monday of the month usually about two o'clock in the morning.

Any infringement of the rules and fines a graded list of fines. Absents for any amounting to the meeting $1 for those not attending of the club and $1 for the performer who doesn't enter his sister member. If you forget the owner, head-sake or the high sign, a knowing wagger of the ears, and either fine is in order.

The money raised will be devoted to charity for as the membership constitutes the club exists for charity and literary purposes. What goes the handout for? Well, several of the girls' candid status.

ICKES' STAND

The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion. The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion.

I supported the Administration in 1938 as well as vigorously and effectively as Mr. Ickes. But during the last year I was convinced that I had to stand for the principle of the separation of the executive and legislative branches of the government. I was prepared to give up the position of a member of the Administration in order to do this.

THE REORGANIZATION BILL was one part of it. You can see the rest of it in the book "The Ickes' Stand" which is now being published by the American People's Library. The book is a collection of the Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion.

These papers were the journal of the reorganization plan which, in the end, was rejected by the Senate. The papers were the journal of the reorganization plan which, in the end, was rejected by the Senate. The papers were the journal of the reorganization plan which, in the end, was rejected by the Senate.

AS PART of this reorganization plan, the Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion. The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion. The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion.

So, as was the power proposed for the President over all the part of the legislative branch, the Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion. The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion. The Ickes' stand, as a result of the recent attack on the administration, has been a subject of much discussion.

Many on the grounds here stated I expect the Reorganization bill as a trend, among others, toward one-man government. That is what the general Secretary of the Interior now calls fascism. It is as such the Constitution.

Bartolo to Face
Scalzo's Wallop

Chmielewski Like Machine Gun

SALVATORE BARTOLO of East Boston, another graduate of the Hearst All-America boxing shows, will receive an opportunity to gain national boxing fame overnight when he collides with Pete Scalzo of New York, generally recognized as world's featherweight champion, in a ten-round bout at the Goodwin Club's show at the Garden on Friday night . . . Scalzo won his claims to the title when he stopped Joey Archibald of Providence.

The featherweight championship became vacant when Hammering Henry Armstrong announced he no longer could make 126 pounds . . . That was after the Eddie Meade entry had won the world's lightweight and welterweight championships . . . Armstrong probably figured it would be charged he had a monopoly on boxing if he didn't give up one of his titles . . . Scalzo is a puncher, and has been knocking featherweight rivals for a loop . . . It will be interesting to see how the fast, clever Bartolo fares against the new champion.

Bartolo flashed to fame in the Hearst All-America tournament two years ago last Fall . . . He then went on to become a Golden Glove champion . . . The East Boston youngster has more real ring class than any boxer to come out of the amateurs in recent years . . . When hard pressed, Bartolo shows at his best . . . He tosses punches with the rapidity that bullets sputter from the mouth of a machine gun . . . It should be a grand scrap when Salvatore and Scalzo blaze into action.

Bartolo comes of Italian stock . . . Johnny Dundee, an Italian, once won the featherweight championship by outscoring Eugene Cright, gallant Frenchman who became title holder by knocking out Johnny Kilbane . . . Dundee could lick opponents from the featherweight to the welterweight class . . . He once got the duke over "Young" Kloby at Johnny Cuddy's open air arena in Lawrence . . . At the time, Kloby, a U. S. veteran, was New England welterweight champion.

Marty Killilea Praises Henry Chmielewski

I MET MARTY Killilea, who piloted Johnny Wilson to the world's middleweight championship, at a recent amateur boxing show.

"This Polish youngster, Henry Chmielewski, looks like the real thing as a fighter," said Killilea . . . "I liked the way he came back throwing punches after being tagged on the chin by Unknown Morgan . . . Unless a young fighter can take a good belt, he isn't going any place . . . Johnny Rossi will give Chmielewski plenty of opposition at the Garden on Friday night . . . Rossi has had ample ring experience . . . Those kind of matches will be beneficial to Chmielewski . . . He will learn something about boxing."

Harry Kelley, who trains Chmielewski, was in Johnny Wilson's corner the night the latter won the world's middleweight championship from Mike O'Dowd, is handling Chmielewski . . . Kelley has named the new sensation "Machine Gun" Chmielewski.

"Chmielewski throws punches faster than any fighter I have ever seen," said Kelley.

Mike Kaplan of Dorchester and Jimmy Leto of Hartford will also do a little punching on the Garden card Friday night.

"The Shadow" Lives in Brighton

ONE OF MY smart operators followed the auto containing "The Shadow" when the latter left an intown gym yesterday, and he reported back to me that the mysterious grappler lives in an apartment section in Brighton . . . "The Shadow" left his car before reaching his destination, dashed through a private way, and then across open lots to another street . . . He was successful in eluding my operator, but the latter is quite certain "The Shadow" was headed for his home . . . "The Shadow" had told me in a recent interview that he lived in an apartment in a residential section of Boston . . . Possibly the fact "The Shadow" has now been definitely placed in Brighton will cause the mystery wrestler to secure quarters in another part of the city, or in one of our many suburbs.

If Gus Sonnenberg succeeds in unmasking "The Shadow" at the Garden tomorrow night, there will no longer be any occasion for the mystery grappler to worry about keeping his identity a secret.

Mike Kaplan's dog "Lucky" seems worried about Mike's black eye. "Lucky" has been eating well since Mike started fistic climb, and probably is afraid of a slump in rations if Mike gets hurt in tangle with Jimmy Leto Friday at Garden.

CHAMPIONS PARADE IN ARGONNE BOUTS

The big parade of champions will be on display at Mechanics Building for the Argonne A. A. tomorrow night, when Abe Denner, the West End newsboy, battles Honey Melody of Charlestown, New England lightweight champion, over the 12-round route.

The boxing fans will get a peek at more than a dozen former New England lightweight kings who were the tops in their day.

Abe Denner

fighting gladiators in their respective classes of the sport for several years. Mosey King, now at Yale, was at one time a member of the Connecticut Boxing Commission.

All of the former stars were long routers, Canole having gone 25 rounds with Jimmy Britt and "Battling" Nelson, in California, while the record of Jimmy Briggs is embellished by long battles.

The stars of yesterday will sit at the ringside and the Massachusetts State Boxing Commission will allow the directors of the Argonne A. A. to introduce the former boxers to the New England boxing fans who attend the Melody-Denner lightweight title bout.

In the opening 10-rounder, Tiger Warrington, the Champion of Halifax, Canada, meets his toughest assignment when he crawls through the ropes to battle Dominic Cecarelli, light heavyweight champion of Italy.

In the second 10-rounder Pat Fole, Worcester's fighting Irishman who has won his last 22 fights in a row, swaps punches with John Cabello, sensational Puerto Rican lightweight and recent conqueror of Ginger Foran, leading English contender.

The semi-windup 10-rounder will bring together two of New England's outstanding welterweights, the Cocoa Kid, and "Belling Blaster" Carroll, the pride of Lowell.

The windup and feature event will bring together Honey Melody, the lightweight champion, and Abe Denner.

O'Mahony Encounters Jewish Star

Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, and "The Shadow," mat's boggy man, were to wind up their training today for their battle which headlines Promoter Paul Bowser's all star card tomorrow night at the Garden.

For better than a week and a half the men have been in local gymnasiums. Promoter Bowser himself surprised them at the gymnasiums to make sure they were in condition.

He first dropped in on Gus the Goat and saw that muscular husky give a display of the flying tackle that almost floored him.

"I never saw that guy looking so good and that goes for the days when he was bending Strangler Lewis and others with his tackle. Gus tells me he's a sure bet to win back the title and I find plenty of experts who agree with him."

From there Bowser went to "The Shadow's" headquarters.

"Say, the way these guys are in training there must be a real feud on," Bowser said.

"The Shadow is still misty peevish that he can't wrap his arm up in bandage, but he thinks he can pin Gus anyway. He still calls Gus a 'washed up has-been' but after what I saw I wouldn't be surprised if The Shadow eats those words."

The semifinal will have Dan O'Mahony, former champion, against huge Harry Jacobs, Jewish star from California.

Bank Roll On Upward Swing

It's two in two days for Ken Kling, whose Joe and Asbestos Daily Late Special is the new horse feature of the Boston Evening American.
Kling started off Monday with a bankroll of $20 and boosted it to $22.40 when his Waxwing won the sixth at the Fair Grounds, New Orleans.
Yesterday Kling had $500 on Old Roanbush to place at Fair Grounds, and that is just what Old Roanbush did.
Old Roanbush paid $2.80, which gave Kling a winning margin of $200 for day, boosting his bankroll to $24.40.
This new feature appears exclusively in the Boston Evening American as an added feature to his daily selections, which appear in the Boston Daily Record.
The horse appears in code and is decoded through Ken Kling's Joe and Asbestos booklet, details of which appear in an advertisement on this page.
Ken Kling's code horse goes today in the sixth race at Fair Grounds. Following is the entire entry for that race.

SNOW RACING FAILURE WHIPS WAR ADMIRAL

By DAVE WILSON
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15—Even "Believe It Or Not" Ripley wouldn't believe it if you were to tell him quick, but it's happening right here in Miami:

Snow, a three-year-old maiden which has yet to grace the winner's circle, outwaked War Admiral from the gate. He was timed a half in 46.3-5 from a barrier. War Admiral, however, was under a choking pull and was clocked in 47 and some odd change by the Ingersoll men.
Snow, a three-year-old maiden

People are actually going to the ringade to see Tony Galento meet Abe Feldman here February 22 with bathing suits on in order to avoid getting wet. In fact, a high priced yearling, was a flop as a race horse but he brought two pretty good race horses in Ingersoll and Lawton, winner of the Kentucky Derby.

It may interest the Grand Circuit promoters around New England to know that George H. Bull of Saratoga is to talk this week with a representative of the National Trotting Horse Association relative to having a harness meeting at the famous old watering spot during the first two weeks in July, the period usually reserved for New England.

Horse trainers have a great deal more principle than some men you meet in the sports world at that, George Conway and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, when approached with a pretty good cash offer to lend their names in a testimonial for a national product sold among horsemen turned the proposition down because they didn't use it.

Rumor had it down here that Sam Simon was to let the new "angel" for Gulfstream Park, but when the Miami office of the Racing Form queried him he answered in the negative. The "Ice Palace" which was in Boston is due to open a two weeks stand in Miami starting February 22.

Indians Plan To Use Feller In Night Games

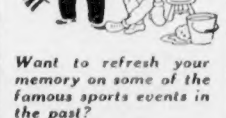

Southern California will be free deep in all positions and rival coaches mean they'll be just as strong in the third and fourth rows as in the first. Max Schmeling is going to Miami for a run before returning to Germany. Among those trying to forget is the U. of Richmond basketball player who did a Corrigan and tossed one into the wrong basket.

Fordham has an option on Eubela Field for the Alabama game October 7, just in case the Glants and Yanks get into the world's series. The real reason Tommy Farr shoved off without signing for a fight is because Mike Jacobs wouldn't be a sucker and underwrite a $50,000 damage suit which awaits Tommy in Lunna. The Indians plan to arrange Bob Feller's pitching turn so he can start all the night games.

Latest unofficial figures say DiMaggio wants $30,000 and Ruffing $25,000. Last year they drew down $25,000 and $20,000, respectively. John Henry Lewis may start his comeback campaign against Dave Clark at Detroit March 21.

Ty Cobb is in demand as the feature attraction of a coast-to-coast coast book-up. The boys have figured it out that the $25,000 Hank Greenberg will get this summer will be just about $500 for each of those 35 homers he hit last year. Larry MacPhail plans 25 free afternoons for the Brooklyn knothole gang (100,000 strong) this summer. Sam Beardon says no Cardinal deals are on the fire and the club will go through the season with the men now on the roster in the world, Johnny Mize, Joe Medwick and seven other Joe somethings.

SKIING WITH HANNES SCHNEIDER, world-famous Austrian skimeister who arrived at North Conway, New Hampshire, last Saturday, was both a thrill and a privilege for this skier.

Swooping like a snowbird down the slope on Cranmore Mountain, Herr Schneider was the cynosure of all eyes as he gave a grand exhibition of downhill running with his renowned Arlberg technique. Although completely in control, his hands seemed to have wings as he traversed the slope in perfect Christiania turn with the familiar down-up-down motion. Here is a Master of the Art of Skiing!

Hannes Schneider, as every skier should know by now, was brought to this country by Harvey Gibson, New York banker, to re-establish his famous Ski School at the Eastern Slopes Inn in North Conway, a far-cry from his former headquarters at St. Anton am Arlberg in the Austrian Tyrol. It was at this rendezvous that Schneider held sway for a score of years, teaching ski enthusiasts of all classes, including members of most of the royal families of Europe. He originated his famous Arlberg style of skiing during the World War, the crouch being adaptable to icy, rough terrain.

Schneider was really responsible for developing a new technique. His book, "The Wonders of Skiing," was one of the first complete manuals to be published. Everyone remembers his motion picture, "The Ski Chase." His coming to New Hampshire will make the locality the St. Anton of America. North Conway will be the Ski School center of the country!

"Tap" Goodenough, Boston American ski expert, interviewing Hannes Schneider, famous Austrian ski instructor, who has just arrived at North Conway, N. H.

Expert Impressed With Progress Made by American Students

Schneider speaks little English but is able to make himself understood. "American skiing has made great progress," he exclaimed to this writer. "Everyone is very enthusiastic and anxious to learn. I am most happy to be here." Picking up some granular snow and letting it run through his fingers, he turned to us and said, "This snow is good—fast!" And he certainly loves to ski.

Hannes was very agreeable to pose for the picture in today's column, which was taken, incidentally, by Arnold Black, amateur photographer and skier of note.

Herr Schneider is a most affable and genial person. His sparkling smile is sure to win you and he fairly beams all over. There is nothing of the Prima Donna about this celebrity. He is not affected, and seems very natural and at ease. He greets one and all in the same likeable manner, and has completely captivated North Conway.

Schneider does not adopt a bizarre ski outfit, but merely wears a brown sport coat and light brown pants. His skis do not have a tricky harness with unnecessary coils and gadgets. He uses only a low-bitch binding with springs around the heels.

Skimobile Tram Makes Hit With Visiting Star

The Skimobile Tramway on Cranmore Mountain made a big hit with Hannes Schneider, who had several rides to the top in it. This conveyance was constructed by the Eastern Slopes Inn, at a cost of $30,000, and invented by a local mechanical genius. The tram consists of an endless chain of individual cars on a track. It is absolutely safe for all, travelling at a very slow speed. "This is a wonderful thing!" said Schneider as he started up in a car for another run. "Ski Hell!"

KREUGER FIVE BACK

On Saturday evening, February 18, at the Blossom Street Gym, the West End House varsity will play a return engagement with the fast-stepping Kreuger Brewers of Brockton.

100 Years of Baseball

Batsmen Had Edge in First Set of Baseball Rules Drawn

(Organized Baseball is making elaborate preparations for the centennial celebration of the founding of a purely American outdoor sport that has progressed through amazing stages of evolution to become the most soundly covered professional game in the world. At the end of 100 years, it is still expanding and is firmly entrenched as the greatest American game for boys to play and men to watch. It is a sport that blankets the entire country for six months in every year and intrigues millions of patrons. The history of this game will be told briefly in a series of articles by Sid Mercer, baseball writer for the Hearst Newspapers and the International News Service.)

By SID MERCER

The first written rules were drawn up by the Knickerbocker Club late in 1845. This simple code has been subjected to many alterations and much elaboration, but the basic principles of the game and the distances between bases have been retained. Following are the original rules:

Sec. 1.—The bases shall be from "home" to second base 42 paces; from first to third base 42 paces equidistant.

Sec. 2.—The frame to consist of 31 counts of acres (runs), but at the conclusion an equal number of hands (outs) must be played.

Sec. 3.—The ball must be pitched (underhand) and not (freelanded) for the bat.

FOUL DEFINED

Sec. 4.—A ball knocked outside the range of first or third base is foul.

Sec. 5.—Three balls being struck at and missed and the last one caught is a hand out; if not caught is considered fair and the striker bound to run.

Sec. 6.—A ball being struck or tipped and caught either flying or on the first bounce is a hand out.

Sec. 7.—A player running the bases shall be out if the ball is in the hands of an adversary and the runner is touched by it before he makes his base, it being understood, however, that in no instance is the ball to be thrown at him.

Sec. 8.—A player running who shall prevent an adversary from catching or getting the ball before making his base is a hand out.

RUN NOT ALLOWED

Sec. 9.—If two hands are already out, a player running home at the time a ball is struck cannot make an ace if the striker is thrown out.

Sec. 10.—Three hands out, all out.

Sec. 11.—Players must take their strike in regular turn.

Sec. 12.—No ace or base can be made on a foul strike.

Sec. 13.—A runner cannot be put out in making one base when a ball is made by the pitcher.

Sec. 14.—But one base allowed when the ball bounds out of the field when struck.

The first game played under the written rules was the picnic affair between the Knickerbockers and the New York Club at Hoboken in 1846, and the second match game was not contested until five years later. The new game had prospered under Knickerbocker Club regulations, but as interest mounted in the sport and new clubs were organized there was no generally accepted style of play.

Previous to 1864, a batsman was out if the ball, fair or foul, was caught on the first bounce. That year the "fly catch" of fair balls only was adopted, but not until 1883—a year after the Knickerbocker disbanded—was the "foul bound catch" generally discarded.

The first radical change in the playing code was the admission of called strikes in 1864. This was at the suggestion of Henry Chadwick, who had induced the National Association to give the rules a thorough overhauling.

OTHER CHANGES COME

The pitcher could lose as many "wild" balls as he chose, there being no called ball penalty. The batsman was not restricted as to the number of balls he could strike at nor was the runner required to touch each base in order.

The 1864 rules prescribed that pitchers must deliver the ball with both feet on the ground, the bat was limited as to thickness but not weight or length, the pitcher penalized with the called ball and the batsman with the called strike.

Base runners were permitted to advance after a fly ball caught or when a batsman was awarded a base on balls and required to touch each base in order.

Henry Chadwick's influence on the national pastime is related by Sid Mercer in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.
